speeches for and Against the Irish Coercion Bill. London, April 12th. - The House of commons resumed its sitting this after-tion. After Speaker Peele had thanked the House for its diligence during his illness, Attorney-General Holmes reopened the debate on the Government's side in favor of the Irish Crimes Act amendment oili. He contended that the measure was a fair and reasonable one, and that none of i's provisions would interfere with constitutional or public rights. The House should remember, Holmes ar-gued, that society in Ireland was in gued, that society in Ireland was in a state of disorganization; that crime went undetected, and that the people seemed to sympathize with criminals, and thwarted all attempts to obtain evidence. In cases where the evidence was clearly against the prisoners, juries refused to convict, so that the system of trial by jury had absolutely broken down in Ireland. It was absurd to say that crime in Ireland should go unpunished, rather than that such effectual means as the changing of venue should be taken to secure the due administration of the law. Holmes hoped it would not be necessary, if the bill passed, to have frequent recourse to change of venue. [De-

Childers said that although he supported the amendment to the bill, he admitted that some of the bill's rovisions would not be objectionable if they were made part of the general law for both Ireland and England; but those featnres of the proposed law which the Gov-ernment especially intended to apply to Ireland were unwarranted, and would be found to evoke disorder, instead of remedying existing evils. Why propose coercion when there was no increase of crime shown in Ireland? Before the last election at least ninety Conservative members of Parliament delared against any further co-

The Philosophy of Life. The philosophy of Francis Bacon is the philosophy of life. "Despise no new accident in the body," said he, "but ask opinion of it; in sickness principally respect health, and in health action." Interesting to Immigrants.—C. H Street, Secretary of the State Immigration Association, returned on Saturday from a visit to Shasta and Tehama counties. He reports that he traveled through the south-west portion of Shasta and the northwest portion of Tehama, and examined a large amount of land suitable for settlement He found it rolling hill land, well timbered, good soil, rain abundant, and adapted to general farming, fruit, grain or stock. The new settlers who have been sent there by the Association during the last three years were found to be doing well and to be en tirely satisfied with their location. There are some 8,000 of these settlers in all. They are putting out a good many fruit trees. There were not a few orange trees here and there, and all appeared to do well. At Iago, Mr. Street saw two orange trees 14 years old, which bore last year about 1,000 oranges each. The fruit trees are now loaded with blossoms. There is no snow and no frost of any account. The rainfall is never less than 20 inches for the season, and the average rainfall is more than 30 inches.—S. F. Chronicle.

WILD PIGEONS IN THE FOOTHILLS .- The portsmen of Grass Valley, instead of hooting at tame pigeons from traps, congregate under the wild pigeon roosts near own, and blaze away as the birds return rom the feeding-grounds to their nocturna uarters. Several matches that have taken ace recently afforded the shooters much port. Teams of six men to a side are chosen, and each team selects a certain line of flying birds. The shooting at incoming bigeons is generally kept up for an hour or o, until darkness sets in. On the return some the birds are counted, and the side or team scoring the most kills wins the honor of the day and a supper. The sportsmer of the mountain town say that wild pigeon shooting discounts trap shooting. The birds are harder to kill, and, as they come in to roost with rapid flight, they afford the shooters many critical shots, and generally the misses outnumber the kills. Wagner and Stone are ranked as the lead-

Beware of Scrofula AT THE GOLDEN EAGLE HOTEL, SACRAMENTO, THURSDAYS, UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.

CATARRH, HAY FEVER, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Catarrh is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of a vegetable parasite in the internal lining membrane of the nose. This parasite is only developed under favorable circumstances, and these are:

Morbid states of the blood, produced by any condition that impairs the general health and reduces the tone of the system, overwork, mental worry. Ilving in damp and malarial districts, the rapid change of temperature frem heat to cold, so peculiar to the North American climate, suppressed perspiration and retention of the effece matter of the skin, badly-ventilated sleeping apartments, courses of poisonous drugs, such as mercury or quinine, the germ poison of syphilits, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood.

effece matter of the skin, badly-ventilated sieeping apartments, courses of poisonous drugs, such as mercury or quinine, the germ poison of syphiliis, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood.

These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fauces or back part of the mouth, causing ulceration of the throat; up the custachian-tubes, causing deafness; burrowing in the vocal cords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death. A great variety of symptoms are, present in this affection, consisting chiefly of languor, lassitude, debility, mal-assimilation, derangement of secretions, great depression of the nervous system, with or without fever; aching; bruised or beat feeling all over; shivering; a dull headache in the region of the forehead or sensation of fullness or weight about the root of the nose, loss to a greater or less extent of energy, activity and interest in work and pleasure.

The want of proper excretory functions of the skin and the local presence of the parasite give rise to coryza, tonsilitis, sneezing, a sense of fullness, stuffing of the passages, soreness in swallowing, irritative cough, tightness of cheet and lung disease.

There may be a discharge quite heavy if the parasite causes great nervous irritation, which promotes secretion. It may be dry if the multiplication and duplication of the parasite is active. The increased pungent odor of ozena is never present until the spores or roots of the each of the most different may be a discharge quite heavy if the parasite causes great nervous irritation, which promotes secretion, it may be dry if the multiplication and duplication of the parasite is active. fullness, stuffing of the passages, soreness in swallowing, irritative cough, tightness of chest and lung disease. There may be a discharge quite heavy if the parasite causes great nervous irritation, which promotes secretion. It may be dry if the multiplication and duplication of the parasite is active. The increased pungent odor of ozena is enever present until the spores or roots of the germ penetrate to the cartilages of the nose, then the parasitical formation makes rapid in roads into the healthy structure of the nose.

Catarrh is usually met in three stages: First—A simple parasitical development of the internal lining membrane of the nose, without discharge. Second—Where the roots or spores or sporules of the parasites have penetrated to the bone or cartilage-ozena. Third enternal lining membrane of the nose, without discharge. Second—Where the roots of spores or sporules of the parasite has pread and propagated by millions in the nose, posterior nares, up the eustachian-tubes, down the fauces, vocal cords and bronchi, causing excessive parasitical ucceration and destruction of tissue, the parasite usurping the normal structure.

The mode of propagation is by contagion, or infection, or both—hence its prevalence in families, districts, etc. The parasite develops itself rapidly, so much so, that millions are elaborated in a short space of time. The effect of this formation upon the nervous system is to impair vital force, produce general nervous irritation, a depreciation of the vaso-motor nerves. Cold in itself cannot produce Catarrh, it simply produces an irritation, a field for the propagation

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE

It Might Have Been Expected.

The result of the game between the Alta and the Greenhood & Moran Baseball Clubs at San Francisco last Sunday might have been anticipated if it was known beforehand that Lovett, the new pitcher, would occupy the box for the Altas during the entire game— anticipated to the extent, at least, that the Oakland club would win, though it would not have been expected that the nine, though notably poor at the bat, would fall down to the extent of not making a run that was something the pitcher had only a one-ninth interest in. It was well known that Lovett had not played ball since last fall, and since his arrival in Sacramento he had very little practice, with his catcher or other members of the club, as he was here but one week, and on Friday and Saturday the rain prevented his having any work. To expect a man, though he might be the best box man in the world, to pitch throughout a game against such a nine as that opposed to the Altas on Sunday, or any other nine of the League, was asking far too much. He should not have been put in the box at all, or at most for not more than one or two innings. It is understood that he does not claim to be a wonderful pitcher, but merely a pretty good one, able to do his share toward winning if well supported. He was not well supported on Sunday, he was a stranger, on strange grounds, playing credit that he did no "kicking," but per-formed his work as best he could, and if toward the close of the game he was too weak to prevent the Greenhoods from batting him all over the field, it was not his fault. He will probably do better work at ments of his position in the nine, and he may prove to be an acquisition. There is one thing that is being overlooked by Sacramento baseball people. The other nines of the League have been strengthened as much as possible from the great quantity material available at San Francisco while the Alta nine is weaker than last o the desire of many to make the latter a nome nine, composed of "Sacramento poys." It would be a good idea if it could carried out: but the club is expected to dits own with others in the League, and if it cannot make the games interest ing, but calmly accepts the position of target-carrier, the public interest will flag to such an extent that the games will ble, and that is vaccination. We are now cease to be profitable to the players. The Constitutional Amendment Election Very little interest was manifested in this city yesterday in the result of the constitutional amendment election, and, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 14th, though the polls were kept open from 6 A. M. to 7 P. M., only 1,321 votes were polled. The result proved a majority of the voters to be opposed to Amendments Nos. 1 and 2, and in favor of No. 3, the vote standing as follows: For No. 1, 571; against, 641. For No. 2, 558; against, 659. Catarrh. Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever-A New Treatment.

ROYAL WILTONS.

Smyrna Rugs are handsome until seen beside Royal Wiltons.

The latter have a closely clipped nap, with a soft, smooth, velyet-like surface. The designs are wonderfully complicated, and the number of colors used in any one rug is very great. A peculiarity of the patterns in Wiltons is that they are so clear and distinct that they cannot be brought out in Smyrnas and other rugs of coarser texture.

A Large-size Royal Wilton Rug, $10 25. We have also a choice selection of new patterns in Salonica and Smyrna Rugs. The smaller sizes in the latter are less in price than formerly.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschce's German Syrup within a few years has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Co'ds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the con-trary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and gen-eral dealers in the land. Price, 75 cents,

A WOMAN AND EIGHT CHILDREN STARV-NG.—About a month ago a well-known hotographer of the name of Wendt died in this city, leaving a wife and seven childree, the eldest one aged 11 years. Two days ago the unhappy widow gave birth to another child. Her delicate condition pre-venting her working, and the expenses insident to her sickness soon exhausted her ittle store of money, which she had ob-ained from the sale of her furniture, and finally starvation in all its horrors stared her and her eight young children in the face. Too proud to make her poverty known, the woman and the unhappy family silently bore their sufferings, hoping for an unforeseen relief. Their circum-stances were, however, known to their neighbors in Latham place, which is off lason street, between O'Famell and Ell streets, and their condition was told a lady in this city who is widely known for her when found had been two days withou

WOOL—Trade was light last week and shippers are waiting for such freight rates as will prove moderate and permanent. As a matter of fact there is at this moment so much unceras to buying. There have been sa'es for sour-ing st our quotations, but even better prices could be realized if freights were down to the old standard of 1½ to 2c on grease Wools, as valued. MISCELLANEOUS.

More Facts.

Sterling, Ill., August 22, 1885.
We feel we must write something of the success of Hop Bitters. Their sale is treble that of any other article of medicine. Hence we feel it but justice to you and your Bitters to say that it is a medicine of real merit and virtue, and doing much good and effecting great cures.

Yours, J. F. & H. B. UTLEY.

HAYESVILLE, OHIO, Feb. 11, 1884. I am very glad to say I have tried Hop Bitters, and never took anything that did me as much good. I took only two bottles and I would not take $100 for the good they did me. I recommend them to my patients, and get the best of results from their use.

C. B. MERCER, M. D.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 15, 1885.

We take pleasure in giving you a notice, and a nice, strong one, as it (Hop Bitters) deserves it. We use it, and we know it deserves it .- The Register. GREENWICH, Feb. 11, 1886. HOP BITTERS Co.:

Sirs: I was given up by the doctors to die of scrofula consumption. Two bottles of your Bitters cured me. They are having a large sale here. LEROY BREWER.

GREENWICH, N. Y., Feb. 12, 1885. Hop Bitters are the most valuable medi-ne I ever knew. I should not have any mother now but for them. HENRY KNAPP.

LONE JACK, Mo., Sept. 14, 1885. I have been using Hop Bitters, and have received great benefit from them for liver complaint and malarial fever. They are superior to all other medicines P. M. BARNES.

KALAMAZOO, МІСН., Feb. 2, 1886. Hop Bitters Mrg. Co.:

I know Hop Bitters will bear recommendation honestly. All who use them confer upon them the highest encomiums and give them credit for making cures—all the give them credit for making cures—all the proprietors claim for them. I have kept them since they were first offered to the public. They took high rank from the first, and maintained it, and more called for than all others combined. So long as they keep up their high reputation for purity and usefulness I shall continue to recommend them—something I have never recommend them—something I have never done before with any patent medicine. J. J. BABCOCK, Physician and Druggist.

Kahoka, Mo., Feb. 9, 1886.
I purchased five bottles of your Hop Bitters of Bishop & Co. last fall for my daughter, and am well pleased with the Bitters. They did her more good than all the medicine she has taken for six years.

WM. T. McCLURE.

The above is from a very reliable farmer. whose daughter was in poor health for even or eight years, and could obtain no relief until she used Hop Bitters. She is now in as good health as any person in this country. We have large sales, and
